

Yolanda Greaves

Yolanda Greaves was born in Mobile, Alabama, and has called New York City home since the age of nine.

She is the devoted wife of Reverend Vance Greaves, the newly elected Pastor of Freewheel Missionary Baptist Church in Jamaica, New York.

In 2017, Yolanda began working on emergency preparedness initiatives after feeling led by God to address the growing need for such efforts. In May 2021, she founded I Think I Can R.E.A.C.H. (Reaching Everyone Acquiring Christ's Help), a non-profit organization dedicated to supporting individuals and families in need by providing food, clothing, and other essential resources. Yolanda is also the founder of MY LifeStyle, Inc., a clothing company established in 2007 and formally registered in 2009. Although the business became inactive in 2020 due to COVID-19, Yolanda's entrepreneurial spirit persisted. In the same year, she co-founded Garden Wealth, an herbal remedy company inspired by her own journey of healing from COVID-19 using natural treatments. While this venture is not yet officially registered, it continues to operate. Today, Yolanda devotes much of her time to her work with I Think I Can R.E.A.C.H., Garden Wealth, and her ongoing emergency preparedness efforts.